

THE BFS PAT SPEAKER SERIES

[the PAT proudly presents]

GOOD VALUES IN BAD TIMES: HOW TO TALK TO YOUR KIDS ABOUT MONEY.

Large or small, something has changed for every family in the new post-crash environment. Elizabeth Bailey of the Ackerman Institute for the Family will speak about turning financial challenges – one's own or a neighbor's – into opportunities for raising happier, more financially responsible children. From managing details of lower school envy to those of teen personal finance – cell phones, debit cards – to forming a plan for instilling a sense of community in your child, Bailey will walk through a program for reconciling the spiritual with the material. This presentation helps parents look back at how their parents shaped them and is ideal for families with kids of any age.
